SENT THEM TO LISBON

The Mayor Disposed of Swindells and Mrs. Rutledge.

THEY COULD NOT GIVE BAIL.

The Testimony Was of the Richest Kind.
Small Stealers of Fruit Arrested on Smoky—Two Released and the Others Punished—More Arrests.

Business was so good at city hall yesterday evening that Mayor Gilbert wore a semblance of his old time smile, and Chief Johnson was as happy as the proverbial hummingbird.

Moses Swindells and Mrs. Nancy Rutledge were upon the charge made by Joseph Rutledge, the wronged husband. Robert Downard, son of the woman who controls the boarding house where the pair were captured, was a witness. Joseph Rutledge told the story of his investigation, and Chief Johnson and Officer Jennings related their experience when they made the raid. Mrs. Rutledge denied her guilt, but the mayor held her for court, and as she could not give bail she was led back to jail wearing the air of an injured queen.

Swindells was met by the same testimony when brought for trial, and said that he pitied the woman because her husband had threatened to shoot her.
He became sadly muddled while attempting to clear himself, and the mayor ended the hearing by ordering him taken to Lisbon if he could not give $100 bail. The testimony in part was of the spiciest kind, and unfit for publication.
Swindells and the woman were taken to Lisbon by Chief Johnson this morning.

Joe Hauck, the Second street restaurteur, has been missing canned fruit and pickles, and on Wednesday found that 30 jars had been stolen during the night. The robbery was reported to the police, and Frank and Gus Feustel, Wyllie Farmer and George McCollough were arrested last evening. Farmer and Gus Feustel were released because they had nothing to do with the theft. The others were fined $1 and costs each, and released. The boys only selected the best preserves, and gave the police a clue by attempting to trade a can for bowls of soup at a Second street saloon.
There will be other arrests.

MR. LLOYD IS DISGUSTED.

He Speaks His Mind About Some Weak Women.

Humane Agent Lloyd is the most disgusted man in the city, owing to the result of the Freeman French case. He says: "The agent is supposed to receive nothing but glory out of a case of this kind, and he is only used by the wife as a tool to intimidate the husband. It is a rule of the society to take no case unless the costs are put up, but in many instances the people are not able to find the amount of the costs, and showing a case of extreme cruelty we are in duty bound to take it. Mrs. French promised faithfully she would prosecute her husband if the case was pushed. The squires don't like to take cases of this kind, as they can see nothing but glory in it.
There will be little chance of convicting French if he is sent to Lisbon, as his wife would not appear against him, but the society will have the satisfaction of knowing he has spent a few days in jail for his actions."

THE COW WASN'T MAD,

But It Had a Big Apple Lodged in Its Throat.

A cow owned by Henry Scott scared the people of Avondale street. It was taking its evening meal when it attempted to swallow an apple. The apple was too large to go down its throat with ease, and the cow was not long in beginning the finest serpentine dance ever seen on the hill. It waltzed and polked, and executed the scottische in an admirable manner. Then it gave the frightened spectators a twostep, and ended the performance by making numerous and ineffectual attempts to stand on its head.
At this point the program was rudely interrupted by the driver of an ice wagon, who put his hand into the animal's throat, and drew forth the apple.

COPPER COINAGE.

A Good Reason For Asking Congress to Pass a Bill.

Colonel Hill has some strong ideas on the silver question, and gave the following while discussing the matter recently:

"The Michigan copper miners have been led to think that the Democratic party should look after their interests as well as the interests of the western silver miners, and give them the free and unlimited privilege of having their copper coined into cents, not the large cents that were coined years ago, but the modern small cents, as they now believe the less sense there is in Democratic political matters the more popular the measures will become."

THEY HAVE FINISHED.

Prof. J. G. Kerry and His Force Have Left the City.

Prof. J. G. Kerry has completed the difficult task of surveying and platting the land of the bridge company, and left for his home in Montreal this afternoon.
The professor will rest a few weeks, and then resume his duties in McGill university, where he occupies the chair of civil engineering. He was accompanied by D. C. T. Atkinson and Percy Butler, students of the university who have been here gaining some practical knowledge. Professor Kerry will return to the city for a brief visit during the holidays, as he is a member of the bridge company. L. C. James, transit man of the party, also went home. He resides in Zaleski, O.

WARNED THE WARDEN.

Ira Marlatt, Friend, Sends a Letter to Mr.
Coffin.

Ira Marlatt is the central figure of another mystery, and has set all the tongues in the penitentiary wagging at a great rate. The warden the other day found on his desk a letter from the demon. Marlatt wanted a guard removed, and while he did not want to wage continual war on the warden and his staff he would have to do it if the guard was not changed.
Now the officials are wondering how Marlatt got the materials to produce that letter, and how he had it delivered,
for he is locked in a sheet iron cell, and no one is allowed to communicate with him.

IN A GUTTER.

Mr. Preston Fell and Broke Three Ribs
at Akron.

Mr. Preston, who has been employed at the Akron pottery for some time, was injured so badly by a fall Wednesday evening that he was compelled to cease working, and yesterday, accompanied by his son, James, returned from Akron to this city. Preston was going home from his work, and stepping on a slimy spot he slipped and fell into a deep gutter. He was severely hurt, and upon examination it was found that three ribs were broken. A few bruises were also received. He managed to make his way home.

NO HIGH HATS

Will be Allowed at the Grand if Objection
is Made.

An opening company has not as yet been secured for the Grand Opera House, but efforts are being made to book a first class attraction. The Horace Vinton company is booked for the third week in September. The directors of the theater will meet in the near future and elect a manager for the coming year. What will be done in regard to the high hat law has not been decided,
but if any person objects the management will be compelled to enforce the law to the letter.

CHANGED HER MIND.

A Woman Was Angry and Wanted to Cut
Her Throat.

The other evening as Chief Johnson was standing in the Diamond an excited individual rushed up to him, and exclaimed in tones of great alarm that a woman living on lower Lincoln avenue was going to end her life by cutting her throat with a butcher knife. The chief went at once to prevent the bloody act, but arriving on the scene found the place very quiet. The woman had quarreled with her husband, and said she would terminate her existence.

A THOUSAND CATALOGUES.

The Library Will Be Fitted Out in the Right Way.

One thousand very neat book catalogues have been ordered by the library committee, and upon their arrival a list of the volumes donated will be added to the catalogues. They will then be presented to the active members of the library. Secretary Danberg is in receipt of a letter which states the new books will arrive here next Wednesday. He will place them in position at once, and
the rooms will be opened to the public the following Monday.

THREE DEAD MEN.

They Were Killed in a Wreck at Cincinnati Today.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15. (Special).—Three
dead men lie in the city this afternoon,
and three more were taken to the hospitals badly hurt, because a fast going passenger train collided with a through freight on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern. The dead are Engineers Fred Rumpff and William Johnson and Fireman Huffman.

AN ECHO OF THE STORM

William Anderson and John
Aten Will Sue.

THE CITY NOT IN IT THIS TIME

They Are After the West End Pottery
Company—Warned Against Extending
the Plant—Damages Greater Than First Expected.

William Anderson and John Aten,
the West End men whose property suffered severely after the big rain storm of a few weeks ago, have decided to make up the loss by suing the West End Pottery company.

Mr. Anderson told a reporter that the principal cause of the flood was the extension of the pottery on the bank of Tanyard run. The buildings, he said, had been so constructed as to throw the water against the property in such a way as to flood the land. Before the new building was erected serious floods were unknown in that part of the city, and he laid all the blame for damage on the plant. He built one stone wall in the hope that it would keep off the water, but the flood carried it away as if it had been made of paper blocks. He lost heavily by the water, and while he has not yet placed his damage at a certain amount, he would not have had it happen for $1,000. His loss in garden truck was large. Mr. Aten told in substance the same story, and pointed out the manner in which his crops were destroyed. He is just finding the real extent of the damage, and thinks the West End company is responsible. He warned them repeatedly that a heavy rain would flood his land if they changed the course of the run. He, too, is undecided about the amount of money he will ask, but after he has found the total amount of damage, suit will be entered. The water was eight feet deep in some parts of his property, and piles of useless dirt were washed on his fertile fields.

NO POLES ON FIFTH.

Street Committee Refuses a Request of the Central District.

Street committee held a short session
the other evening, and decided to refuse the request of the telephone company to allow them to run a line of poles along Fifth streets. This thoroughfare is the only one free from telephone poles
in the city, and the committee are desirous of having it stay that way as long as possible. They informed the agent of the company that he could erect the poles in the alley between Fourth and Fifth streets. Chairman Kent, when spoken to on the subject, said: "As long as this committee is in power the telephone company, if they wish to erect a new line of poles, will have to put them in the alleys. What future committees will do I cannot say."

HOME FROM NORFOLK.

The Rechabites Had a Good Time But no
Offices.

Mail Carrier McCloskey, Will Stock-
dale, Miss Sadie Coleman and Miss Mary D. Kerr, the delegates to the annual convention of the Rechabites held at Norfolk, Va., returned last evening.
J. H. Mitchell, of Atlantic City, was elected high chief ruler, and L. J. Dover, of Zanesville, who returned with the party from this city and will remain until this evening the guest of Mr.
McCloskey, was made high chief. Mrs.
McCloskey accompanied her husband on the trip. The delegates were royally entertained, and visited a number of summer resorts. They also had a sail on the bay, and spent two days sight seeing in Washington.

ALL RIGHT IN ST. CLAIR.

The Farmers Will Vote For McKinley
and Good Money.

Said an intelligent farmer of St. Clair township:
"I have carefully investigated these stories of Republicans leaving their party to vote for silver, and find them, as a rule, to be campaign lies of the most glaring variety. In St. Clair township all the Republican farmers with
the possible exception of one will vote for McKinley and good money. The Democrats, too, are sticking to their party, and I don't know of one who will not vote for the 53 cent silver dollar.
There will not be much change in St.
Clair this year."

A BIG INCREASE.

People Are Not Paying Their Taxes
This Year.

LISBON, Aug. 15. (Special).—A glance
at the books of Auditor Harvey shows that Columbiana county people are not paying their taxes this year. The amount delinquent is $68,407.18, as against $25-841.04 last year. In the corporations the amount is $62,941.16, and in the townships it is $5,839.64. Last year the corporations showed $19,502.30 and the townships $5,839.64.

Recorder Lense says that business is very dull, and in five years he has not known it to be so bad in his office. During the past few weeks three and four days have gone by without an instrument being presented for record.

NO CONTAGION.

The City Is Very Well Just Now and Few
Are Ill.

The board of health will probably not hold a meeting this month. The city is free from all contagious diseases, and there is not one case of typhoid fever.
The report of the health officer for last month is as follows: Births—Males, 11; females, 9. Deaths—Males, 8; females, 3. Of this number one died from consumption and one was drowned.
During the month six cases of measles
and two of typhoid fever were reported.

ONLY A DUSTER.

Disappointment for the Ohio Valley North
of Town.

The well drilled by the Ohio Valley company on the Russell farm north of the city came in yesterday afternoon, and proved nothing more than a duster.
A little gas was found, but the quantity
was so small that it can not be used.
The drillers will start on another well in another locality, and the territory will be completely tested.

A NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Will Be Attended by Local Members of the Daughters of America.

J. E. Anderson, national representative, and Miss Annie Davidson, past national councillor of the Daughters of America, will leave Monday morning to attend the national council which convenes at Portland, Ind., Tuesday morning. They will be accompanied by C. W.
Morris, of Wellsburg, who is the national treasurer.

A NAIL IN HIS HEAD.

William Brown Forgot the Board Above Him.

William Brown, an employe of the Burford pottery, has a sore spot on his head. While oiling the machinery under a bench yesterday afternoon Brown raised and his head came in contact with a nail protruding from a board. A small wound was caused, but Brown was not seriously hurt.

Mashed His Hand.

James Sharp had his hand very severely mashed this morning by having it caught under a heavy table while he was helping to unload a moving on Second street. The injured member was dressed by a physician, and Sharp is resting easy although he will nurse a sore hand for some time.

A Progressive Newspaper.

The NEWS REVIEW, East Liverpool,
Ohio, is one of the most progressive newspapers in Ohio. A new Perfection
"G" Morrison Wire stitcher, a bright,
new dress of type of the American Press association face, and a Century Pony,
are its latest acquisitions.—Typographic Advertiser.

Sam Phipp Dead.

Sam Phipp, a leading Democratic politician of Youngstown, died in Philadelphia having been overcome by the heat. He was a leading candidate before the Democratic convention of 1892, and Doctor Ikert only beat him for the nomination by a few votes.

Paid Her Fare.

A middle aged woman, who said she was from Irondale, stepped from the noon train, and was at a loss to know where to find her friends. It was soon discovered that she had no money, but a kind resident gave her a nickel to pay her fare to East End.

The River.

The Virginia and Lorena are due from Pittsburg this evening. A number of casks of ware are lying at the wharf ready to be shipped. There is also a lash at the freight depot today, the shipments of glass and crockery being heavier than usual.

The Usual Cause.

Two bridge employes got into a dispute late last evening at the corner of Third and Broadway. The cause of their difference was a girl. The affair would have terminated in a pitched battle but for the timely interference of friends.

Had a Vacation.

Mailcarrier Alsius Swaney has returned home after a vacation of two weeks in Millport. He will resume his duties Monday.

Moved to Salineville.

The household goods of J. E. Deaves were shipped to Salineville yesterday afternoon.

NOT A SILVER SENATOR

Hon. J. C. Pritchard Will Vote
for Major McKinley.

NORTH CAROLINA IS ALL RIGHT

The State Will Go Republican, and Bryan
Will Not Get the Electoral Vote—A Private Letter to C. H. Blazier Contains Interesting Political News.

At least one southern state will vote for McKinley and Hobart next November, and if one of the best men in the commonwealth can be believed its people will fight free silver to the end.

The state is North Carolina, and the gentleman who so firmly believes in its good sense is Hon. J. C. Pritchard, the brilliant Republican who sits in the chamber at Washington as one of its senators. Mr. Pritchard has frequently been quoted by the Bryan press as being an out and out silver man with no use for McKinley and the Republican platform, but the Bryan press is as usual wrong. When C. H. Blazier, of this city, was a resident of North Carolina he numbered Mr. Pritchard among his closest friends, and that friendship has never been allowed to be forgotten. Today Mr. Blazier received a package containing a splendid photograph of the senator and a letter. In it he strongly denies that he is for free silver, plants himself firmly upon the Republican platform, and ends it with the belief that McKinley will carry the state, and North Carolina will cast its electoral vote for the gallant major.

IN ALLIANCE

The Democrats Will Nominate a Congressional Candidate.

The Democrats of this district will confer the empty and questionable honor of congressional candidate upon some one of the unfettered in Alliance, Sept.
9. The committee so decided it yesterday afternoon, and there is no appeal from the committee's decision. The Populist congressional committee met in Alliance at the same time, and discussed their coming convention, but if arrangements were made to fuse the matter was not made public.

NO BONES BROKEN.

But Lyman Earl's Bicycle is Now in the Hospital.

Lyman Earl, of Fourth street, was thrown from his wheel last evening and severely bruised. Earl was coasting down Lisbon street when the bicycle struck a stone, and the rider was pitched
to the ground and was dazed for some time. Recovering it was found that no bones were broken, but the bike was a complete wreck.

The professor will rest a few weeks, and then resume his duties in McGill university, where he occupies the chair of civil engineering. He was accompanied by D. C. T. Atkinson and Percy Butler, students of the university who have
been here gaining some practical knowledge. Professor Kerry will return to the city for a brief visit during the holidays, as he is a member of the bridge
company. L. C. James, transit man of the party, also went home. He resides
in Zaleski, O.

WARNED THE WARDEN.

Ira Marlatt, Friend, Sends a Letter to Mr.
Coffin.

Ira Marlatt is the central figure of another mystery, and has set all the
tongues in the penitentiary wagging at
a great rate. The warden the other day found on his desk a letter from the demon. Marlatt wanted
a guard removed, and while he did not want to wage continual war on the
warden and his staff he would have to do it if the guard was not changed.
Now the officials are wondering how Marlatt got the materials to produce
that letter, and how he had it delivered,
for he is locked in a sheet iron cell, and no one is allowed to communicate with
him.

IN A GUTTER.

Mr. Preston Fell and Broke Three Ribs
at Akron.

Mr. Preston, who has been employed at the Akron pottery for some time, was injured so badly by a fall Wednesday
evening that he was compelled to cease
working, and yesterday, accompanied by his son, James, returned from Akron
to this city. Preston was going home from his work, and stepping on a slimy
spot he slipped and fell into a deep gutter. He was severely hurt, and upon examination it was found that three ribs were broken. A few bruises were also received. He managed to make his way home.

NO HIGH HATS

Will be Allowed at the Grand if Objection
is Made.

An opening company has not as yet been secured for the Grand Opera House,
but efforts are being made to book a first class attraction. The Horace Vinton company is booked for the third week in September. The directors of the theater will meet in the near future
and elect a manager for the coming year. What will be done in regard to the high hat law has not been decided,
but if any person objects the management will be compelled to enforce the law to the letter.

CHANGED HER MIND.

A Woman Was Angry and Wanted to Cut
Her Throat.

The other evening as Chief Johnson
was standing in the Diamond an excited individual rushed up to him, and exclaimed in tones of great alarm that
a woman living on lower Lincoln avenue
was going to end her life by cutting her throat with a butcher knife. The chief
went at once to prevent the bloody act,
but arriving on the scene found the
place very quiet. The woman had quarreled with her husband, and said she would terminate her existence.

The Library Will Be Fitted Out in the Right Way.

One thousand very neat book catalogues have been ordered by the library
committee, and upon their arrival a list of the volumes donated will be added to the catalogues. They will then be presented to the active members of the library. Secretary Danberg is in receipt of a letter which states the new books
will arrive here next Wednesday. He will place them in position at once, and
the following Monday.

THREE DEAD MEN.

They Were Killed in a Wreck at Cincinnati Today.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15. (Special).—Three
dead men lie in the city this afternoon,
and three more were taken to the hospitals badly hurt, because a fast going
passenger train collided with a through freight on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern. The dead are Engineers Fred Rumpff and William Johnson and Fireman Huffman.

William Anderson and John
Aten Will Sue.

THE CITY NOT IN IT THIS TIME

They Are After the West End Pottery
Company—Warned Against Extending
the Plant—Damages Greater Than First Expected.

William Anderson and John Aten,
the West End men whose property suffered severely after the big rain storm of
a few weeks ago, have decided to make up the loss by suing the West End Pottery company.

Mr. Anderson told a reporter that the principal cause of the flood was the extension of the pottery on the bank of Tanyard run. The buildings, he said, had been so constructed as to throw the
water against the property in such a way as to flood the land. Before the new building was erected serious floods
were unknown in that part of the city,
and he laid all the blame for damage on
the plant. He built one stone wall in the hope that it would keep off the
water, but the flood carried it away as if it had been made of paper blocks. He lost heavily by the water, and while he
has not yet placed his damage at a certain amount, he would not have had it happen for $1,000. His loss in garden truck was large. Mr. Aten told in substance the same story, and pointed out
the manner in which his crops were destroyed. He is just finding the real extent of the damage, and thinks the West End company is responsible. He warned them repeatedly that a heavy rain would
flood his land if they changed the course of the run. He, too, is undecided about
the amount of money he will ask, but
after he has found the total amount of damage, suit will be entered. The water was eight feet deep in some parts
of his property, and piles of useless dirt
were washed on his fertile fields.

NO POLES ON FIFTH.

Street Committee Refuses a Request of
the Central District.

Street committee held a short session
the other evening, and decided to refuse
the request of the telephone company
to allow them to run a line of poles along Fifth street. This thoroughfare is the only one free from telephone poles
in the city, and the committee are desirous of having it stay that way as long as possible. They informed the agent of the company that he could erect the
poles in the alley between Fourth and Fifth street. Chairman Kent, when spoken to on the subject, said: "As long
as this committee is in power the telephone company, if they wish to erect
a new line of poles, will have to put them in the alleys. What future committees will do I cannot say."

HOME FROM NORFOLK.

The Rechabites Had a Good Time But no
Offices.

Mail Carrier McCloskey, Will Stock-
dale, Miss Sadie Coleman and Miss Mary D. Kerr, the delegates to the annual convention of the Rechabites held
at Norfolk, Va., returned last evening.
J. H. Mitchell, of Atlantic City, was elected high chief ruler, and L. J. Dover, of Zanesville, who returned with the
party from this city and will remain
until this evening the guest of Mr.
McCloskey, was made high chief. Mrs.
McCloskey accompanied her husband on
the trip. The delegates were royally entertained, and visited a number of summer resorts. They also had a sail on the bay, and spent two days sight seeing in Washington.

ALL RIGHT IN ST. CLAIR.

The Farmers Will Vote For McKinley
and Good Money.

Said an intelligent farmer of St. Clair
township:

"I have carefully investigated these stories of Republicans leaving their
party to vote for silver, and find them,
as a rule, to be campaign lies of the most glaring variety. In St. Clair township all the Republican farmers with
the possible exception of one will vote for McKinley and good money. The Democrats, too, are sticking to their
party, and I don't know of one who will not vote for the 53 cent silver dollar.
There will not be much change in St.
Clair this year."

A BIG INCREASE.

People Are Not Paying Their Taxes
This Year.

LISBON, Aug. 15. (Special).—A glance
at the books of Auditor Harvey shows that Columbiana county people are not paying their taxes this year. The amount delinquent is $68,407.18, as against $25,- 841.94 last year. In the corporations the amount is $62,941.16, and in the townships it is $5,839.64. Last year the corporations showed $19,502.30 and the townships $5,839.64.

Recorder Lease says that business is
known it to be so bad in his office. During the past few weeks three and four
days have gone by without an instrument being presented for record.

NO CONTAGION.

The City Is Very Well Just Now and Few
Are Ill.

The board of health will probably not hold a meeting this month. The city is free from all contagious diseases, and there is not one case of typhoid fever.
The report of the health officer for last month is as follows: Births—Males, 11; females, 9. Deaths—Males, 8; females, 3. Of this number one died from consumption and one was drowned.
During the month six cases of measles
and two of typhoid fever were reported.

Disappointment for the Ohio Valley North
of Town.

The well drilled by the Ohio Valley company on the Russell farm north of
the city came in yesterday afternoon,
and proved nothing more than a duster.
A little gas was found, but the quantity
was so small that it can not be used.
The drillers will start on another well
in another locality, and the territory
will be completely tested.

A NATIONAL CONVENTION.

Will Be Attended by Local Members of the Daughters of America.

J. E. Anderson, national representative, and Miss Annie Davidson, past
national councillor of the Daughters of America, will leave Monday morning to attend the national council which convenes at Portland, Ind., Tuesday morning. They will be accompanied by C. W.
Morris, of Wellsville, who is the national treasurer.

A NAIL IN HIS HEAD.

William Brown Forgot the Board Above Him.

William Brown, an employee of the Barford pottery, has a sore spot on his head. While oiling the machinery under a bench yesterday afternoon Brown
raised and his head came in contact with a nail protruding from a board. A small wound was caused, but Brown was not seriously hurt.

Mashed His Hand.

James Sharp had his hand very
severely mashed this morning by having it caught under a heavy table while he was helping to unload a moving on Second street. The injured member was dressed by a physician, and Sharp
is resting easy although he will nurse a sore hand for some time.

A Progressive Newspaper.

The News Review, East Liverpool,
Ohio, is one of the most progressive newspapers in Ohio. A new Perfection
"G" Morrison Wire stitcher; a bright,
new dress of type of the American Press association face, and a Century Pony,
are its latest acquisitions.—Typographic Advertiser.

Sam Phipp Dead.

Sam Phipp, a leading Democratic politician of Youngstown, died in Philadelphia having been overcome by the heat. He was a leading candidate before the Democratic convention of 1892, and Doctor Kirk only beat him for the nomination by a few votes.

Paid Her Fare.

A middle aged woman, who said she was from Irondale, stepped from the
noon train, and was at a loss to know where to find her friends. It was soon discovered that she had no money, but
a kind resident gave her a nickel to pay her fare to East End.

The River.

The Virginia and Lorena are due from Pittsburg this evening. A number of casks of ware are lying at the wharf
ready to be shipped. There is also a shipment at the freight depot today, the shipments of glass and crockery being heavier than usual.

The Usual Cause.

Two bridge employes got into a dispute late last evening at the corner of Third and Broadway. The cause of their difference was a girl. The affair
would have terminated in a pitched battle but for the timely interference of friends.

Had a Vacation.

Mailcarrier Alsius Swaney has returned home after a vacation of two weeks in Millport. He will resume his duties Monday.

Moved to Salineville.

The household goods of J. E. Deaves were shipped to Salineville yesterday afternoon.

NOT A SILVER SENATOR

Hon. J. C. Pritchard Will Vote
for Major McKinley.

NORTH CAROLINA IS ALL RIGHT

The State Will Go Republican, and Bryan
Will Not Get the Electoral Vote—A Private Letter to C. H. Blazier Contains Interesting Political News.

At least one southern state will vote
for McKinley and Hobart next November, and if one of the best men in the commonwealth can be believed its people
will fight free silver to the end.

The state is North Carolina, and the
gentleman who so firmly believes in its
good sense is Hon. J. C. Pritchard, the brilliant Republican who sits in the chamber at Washington as one of its senators. Mr. Pritchard has frequently been quoted by the Bryan press as being
an out and out silver man with no use
for McKinley and the Republican platform, but the Bryan press is as usual
wrong. When C. H. Blazier, of this city, was a resident of North Carolina
he numbered Mr. Pritchard among his closest friends, and that friendship has never been allowed to be forgotten. Today Mr. Blazier received a package containing a splendid photograph of the senator and a letter. In it he strongly denies that he is for free silver, plants
himself firmly upon the Republican platform, and ends it with the belief that McKinley will carry the state, and
North Carolina will cast its electoral vote for the gallant major.

IN ALLIANCE

The Democrats Will Nominate a Congress-sional Candidate.

The Democrats of this district will
confer the empty and questionable honor
of congressional candidate upon some one of the untried in Alliance, Sept.
9. The committee so decided it yesterday afternoon, and there is no appeal
from the committee's decision. The Populist congressional committee met in Alliance at the same time, and discussed their coming convention, but if arrangements were made to fuse the matter
was not made public.

NO BONES BROKEN.

But Lyman Earl's Bicycle is Now in the Hospital.

Lyman Earl, of Fourth street, was thrown from his wheel last evening and
severely bruised. Earl was coasting down Lisbon street when the bicycle
struck a stone, and the rider was pitched
to the ground and was dazed for some time. Recovering it was found that no bones were broken, but the bike was a complete wreck.

The Salineville Banner is two years old, and is as proud as a peacock in consequence.

COLUMBIANA county is far too old to bring disgrace upon its head by voting with Mr. Potts.

And the stuffed statesman of Bazzard's Bay continues to fish in silent disregard of Mr. Bryan or any other man.

If Mr. Bryan is worth $6,000 a year to the Bimetallist league as an orator, what would he be worth to the organization as president of the United States?

If the Havana press knew how anxiously Uncle Sam is waiting to be held responsible for those filibustering expeditions they talk so much about, their editorials would teem with less warlike expressions.

The Republican campaign was ripped wide open in Columbus today, and from now until election Chairman Kartz and his force will be hard at work keeping the people of Ohio in the straight and narrow way.

THAT SALARY STORY.

Candidate Bryan with all his fine phrases and studied metaphors can not find words to refute the charge that he is a paid emissary of the Bimetallist league. The day before Bryan was nominated he was comparatively unknown, but within a few hours after he was chosen to represent Democracy, the Chicago Chronicle stated he was in the employ of silver mine owners. Senator Thurston was in position to make the same statement, and has continued to make it whenever he found it convenient. A weak effort on the part of the leading silver paper of Denver to refute the story fell very flat, and it stands today just where it stood the day after the Chicago convention. If it be true, and there are men who will swear that checks from the treasurer of the league to the amount of $6,000 a year have been passing through the Lincoln bank since Mr. Bryan left congress, we are compelled to believe it until the candidate proves it an untruth. It places Mr. Bryan in a bad light, and knocks out those plus of patriotism, leaving him to stand upon nothing but the pay of an organization, many of whose members would be greatly benefited by the active operation of the cause he represents.

AN OLD LEADER

Bourke Cochran Denounces the Democratic Platform.

IT IS A QUESTION OF MORALS

As well as of Patriotism—He Regards the Situation as the Gravest in the History of the Country, Exceeding in Importance the Crisis of 1860—He Advises Democrats to Support the McKinley Electors.

Bourke Cochran, the eloquent Tammany Democrat of New York, whose speech in opposition to Cleveland's nomination in 1892 made his name a household word in this country, has been interviewed as to the action of the national Democratic convention. Speaking of the situation he said:

"I regard it as the gravest in the history of the country, exceeding in importance the crisis of 1860. The secession movement was but an attempt to divide this country between two governments, each of them designed to protect property within the limits of its jurisdiction. The movement launched at Chicago is an attempt to paralyze industry by using all the powers of government to take property from the hands of those who created it and place it in the hands of those who covet it. This is a question of morals as well as politics. No political convention can issue a valid license to commit offenses against morality, and I decline to follow Mr. Bryan in a crusade against honesty and the rights of labor."

"In a contest for the existence of civilization no man can remain neutral. Whoever does not support the forces of order, aids the forces of disorder. If I can do anything to thwart a movement, the success of which I should regard as an irreparable calamity not only to this country, but to civilized society everywhere, I shall certainly do it."

"What do you think of Tammany's action in endorsing the ticket?"
"I simply can't understand it. They strongly opposed the platform at Chicago on the ground that it was an assault on the integrity of the nation. They decline to ratify it even now, which shows that they have not changed their opinion of it. Yet they have endorsed the candidate who stands upon it, and whose election will mean that the platform which they themselves denounce as a singular combination of lunacy and villainy shall be incorporated into the statute laws of this country."

"Will you support Major McKinley outright, or do you favor the nomination of another Democratic ticket?"
"I believe that all Democrats who are so thoroughly in favor of sound money that they place the defeat of Bryan above the interests of any organization or party, should meet in convention for the purpose of considering the form and method by which they can give the greatest efficiency to their opposition. For my part, I do not believe that the nomination of other candidates for president and vice president, however eminent and deserving they may be personally or politically, would serve any useful purpose. Nobody believes that they would be elected, and any Democrat whose hostility to Populism and Republicanism would not allow him to support either Bryan or McKinley could show his opposition to both by remaining at home on election day quite as well as by voting for a third ticket. It would be more convenient to himself individually and would not create a visible separation between himself and his party organization."

"But how can men rupturing parties be sustained by some sense of association among themselves?"
"That end could be attained by the adoption of a platform declaring for sound money; against extravagant appropriations; in favor of economical administration in every department of government; in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ample for the purpose; against the paternalism of the Republican party and the Populist socialism of both the Chicago and St. Louis conventions; in favor of that American liberty which can be maintained by so limiting the power of the government that it can never interfere with the daily concerns of law-abiding citizens. The plank of pressing importance in such a platform is, of course, the currency plank. Now, the mere election of McKinley will be the defeat of the silver movement."

"Your obvious policy, then, would be to endorse the McKinley electors?"
"Precisely. The Democrats who will have achieved the success of their financial plank by the election of McKinley will yet constitute an opposition to the Republican party the day after the election, based on principles which are certainly to be ultimately adopted by the American people. What is needed, therefore, is not a new ticket, but a new platform which will declare in unmistakable language the cardinal features of the party faith, and which, while endorsing McKinley electors, will provide for a really Democratic opposition to the McKinley administration during the period of its existence."

"What is your opinion of the ultimate outlook?"
"Everything depends on the manner in which it is waged. To my mind there is but one cause of prosperity which can be applied to a country, and that is the rate of wages paid to labor. There can be no prosperity where low wages are paid. There can be no distress where the rate of wages is high. It can be easily demonstrated that this whole free silver movement is a conspiracy against wages, and if the campaign is fought on this line I have no doubt that every northern state—that is to say, every state in the Union in which it is practically to hold a free election—will be carried by the intelligence and morality of the American people against the monstrous propositions submitted to them by the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan for the presidency."

Exchanges.

Your dollars are now as good as gold, and it costs you to send a pound (£1) to the old country about $4.

If Bryan is elected and we have free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, your dollars will only be worth 53 cents, and to send a pound (£1) will cost you about $6.25.

A VICIOUS STRIKER.

He Tried to Murder a Quarry Foreman at Berea.

Berea, O., Aug. 15.—A foreman in quarry No. 7, ABROS Morley, has been murdered by George Bownskonski, one of the Polish quarrymen recently out on a strike. Morley is hated by the former strikers, especially those for whom work has not yet been found. A few days ago dynamite was discovered under his house.

Bownskonski applied for work and upon being told there was none, struck Morley on the head with a shovel, knocking him into deep water in the quarry. Morley tried to climb out, but the Pole held his head under water with the shovel and would have drowned him had not some of the quarrymen run to his aid. Bownskonski fled, but was easily found by an officer and arrested without resistance.

FOUR PERSONS WERE WOUNDED.

At Least 20 Shots Exchanged Between Non-Unionists and Strikers—One Striker Arrested, When Seen Throwing a Revolver Away—A Spectator a Victim.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—Three men were shot and one badly hurt in a conflict which occurred between a party of the Brown company strikers and several non-union men who were going home from the works. Two of the wounded men are non-unionists, the third is a striker and the fourth a spectator. The names of the injured are J. W. Caldwell of Kenmore street, non-union, shot in the thigh and struck on the head with a billy; George Plumb of Vanness avenue, non-union, shot through the abdomen, will probably recover; Thos. Evans of Kirtland street, a striker, shot in the back, badly hurt and may die; William Lawley of Giddian avenue, a bystander, struck in the face with telegraph insulator, badly hurt.

The trouble occurred nearly two miles from the works at the corner of Wade park and East Madison avenues. A number of the non-unionists live in that vicinity. Eight or ten of them were going home from the works together. Just as they turned the corner a crowd of strikers who had been in hiding behind a saloon, attacked them. Stones were hurled, and George Plumb, one of the non-unionists, pulled a revolver and fired.

Plumb was then shot, as he claims by Henry Snell, a striker. The firing became general, at least 20 shots having been exchanged. The fight lasted, but a few minutes and as soon as it was over the strikers disappeared. The police had not anticipated any trouble in that quarter and it was some time before they had arrived on the scene and began an investigation. Ambulances took the injured men to hospitals or their homes, and the search for the men who did the shooting was begun. Later the police arrested J. H. Whelan, a striking machinist, formerly employed by the Brown company. He was seen to throw a revolver, all the cartridges in which had been fired, through an open door into a barber shop.

A Cleveland special says: The Brown company strike has been extended to Pittsburgh. The strikers learned a few days ago that the Scaife Foundry and Machine company of Pittsburgh was doing work for the Brown company and they sent a representative there. He has sent back word that he would probably succeed in getting the pattern-makers, machinists and iron molders of the Scaife company to strike.

NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSING.

A Reply Regarding Venezuela in House of Commons.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, in the house of commons, replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader who requested information relative to the progress of the negotiations for arbitration of the Venezuelan dispute, asking whether the apparent difficulties had been removed by the proposal of the United States contained in the dispatch of June 12, said that the government was still considering the latest proposal of Secretary Olney, which is regarded as opening the way for an equitable settlement.

Mr. Balfour added that the government has every reason to expect that the pending negotiations will lead to an early settlement of the dispute.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said he thought the house would regard Mr. Balfour's statement as eminently satisfactory.

OWOSSO, Mich., Aug. 15.—George Russell, aged 56 years, quarreled with his wife over the disposition of some property to their children. As a result both are at the point of death. Neither will talk, but it is evident that the couple had a desperate battle with knives.

A Robbery at Hubbard.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Aug. 15.—The residence and drugstore of D. W. Bonnell, at Hubbard, six miles north of here, has been burglarized. The thieves secured $400 in jewelry and medals won by his son, W. W. Bonnell, a bicycle rider. There is no clew to the perpetrators.

A HEROIC YOUNG AMERICAN.

Though Wounded, He Prevented a Train Wreck in Mexico.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 15.—Inquiry has been received here from the office of the United States consul at Juarez, Mexico, concerning James F. Howard, a young man well known here, who is reported to be lying unconscious in a hospital at Juarez, with two bullets in his body. Private telegrams received here state that Howard started from Juarez to the City of Mexico. A short distance out of Juarez, he became involved in a difficulty with several Mexicans, who attempted to assault him. In a desperate fight that followed, he shot three of them dead and escaped, though himself badly wounded. Later the same night, although almost faint from loss of blood, young Howard saved the Mexican Central train southbound from a wreck, apparently planned by the gang of Mexicans with which he had fought.

He had learned that some one had removed the rails a half mile ahead, and as the train turned a curve some distance away Howard set fire to his coat and as best he could in his weakened condition waved the flaming garment across the track. The signal proved effective, Howard was taken aboard and just before he lost consciousness was enabled to tell the trainmen the condition of the track. The train proceeded slowly, finally coming to a place where the rails had been removed for two lengths and placed across the track. Robbery was evidently intended. Howard has been unconscious since then. He has been shot in two places and dangerously wounded. The Mexican Central officials are doing all possible for him.

TERRIBLE DEATH AWAITS HIM.

A Mad Mob After a Child's Assailant Near Mobile.

MOBILE, Aug. 15.—A horrible sensation was made known here on the arrival of Rev. Gardiner C. Tucker, one of Mobile's most prominent Episcopal clergymen, from Battle's Wharf, on the eastern shore, where the family had been for the summer. His little 5-year-old child was taken from her bed at midnight and carried, still asleep, on the broad of a man, supposed to be white, who took her into the woods and horribly outraged her, afterward bringing her back and depositing his bleeding burden on the porch.

Two counties are shocked by the news and the Mobile police have been called upon to make inquiry. The best men have left here heavily armed and with dogs to scour the country, and the fiend will have short shift if caught. The Mobile crowd was denied passage on the police boat and are only waiting for a regular steamer, and the threats they make indicate a horrible fate for the assailant.

SWIFT TOM COOPER.

He Adds Two More Victories to His List at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 15.—Two more national championships—the quarter and the third mile—dangle at the belt of Tom Cooper. These made three successive championship victories for the Detroit lad. He tried hard for the mile championship, but got in a bad position and was beaten out by little Tom Butler, who rode the race of his life.

But Arthur Gardiner, of the Morgan and Wright team, is the hero of the day. He rode a magnificent race in the one mile open, beating Sanger out by half a wheel's length in 2:01 4-5, world's record time, single paced. Sanger was unfortunate in this contest and deserves a great deal of credit for his work.

Royal sport characterized the second day of the L. A. W. national meet. The weather was pleasant and another big crowd, with a generous proportion of ladies, turned out.

The Weather.

Generally fair, possibly local thunder storms along the lakes this afternoon or night; warmer; light to fresh southwesterly winds.

The Salineville Banner is two years old, and is as proud as a peacock in consequence.

COLUMBIANA COUNTY is far too old to bring disgrace upon its head by voting with Mr. Potts.

AND the stuffed statesman of Buzzard's Bay continues to fish in silent disregard of Mr. Bryan or any other man.

If Mr. Bryan is worth $6,000 a year to the Bimetallist league as an orator, what would he be worth to the organization as president of the United States?

If the Havana press knew how anxiously Uncle Sam is waiting to be held responsible for those filibustering expeditions they talk so much about, their editorials would teem with less warlike expressions.

The Republican campaign was ripped wide open in Columbus today, and from now until election Chairman Kartz and his force will be hard at work keeping the people of Ohio in the straight and narrow way.

THAT SALARY STORY.

Candidate Bryan with all his fine phrases and studied metaphors can not find words to refute the charge that he is a paid emissary of the Bimetallist league. The day before Bryan was nominated he was comparatively unknown, but within a few hours after he was chosen to represent Democracy, the Chicago Chronicle stated he was in the employ of silver mine owners. Senator Thurston was in position to make the same statement, and has continued to make it whenever he found it convenient. A weak effort on the part of the leading silver paper of Denver to refute the story fell very flat, and it stands today just where it stood the day after the Chicago convention. If it be true, and there are men who will swear that checks from the treasurer of the league to the amount of $6,000 a year have been passing through the Lincoln bank since Mr. Bryan left congress, we are compelled to believe it until the candidate proves it an untruth. It places Mr. Bryan in a bad light, and knocks out those pins of patriotism, leaving him to stand upon nothing but the pay of an organization, many of whose members would be greatly benefited by the active operation of the cause he represents.

AN OLD LEADER

Bourke Cochran Denounces the Democratic Platform.

As Well as of Patriotism—He Regards the Situation as the Gravest in the History of the Country, Exceeding in Importance the Crisis of 1860—He Advises Democrats to Support the McKinley Electors.

Bourke Cochran, the eloquent Tammany Democrat of New York, whose speech in opposition to Cleveland's nomination in 1892 made his name a household word in this country, has been interviewed as to the action of the national Democratic convention. Speaking of the situation he said:

"I regard it as the gravest in the history of the country, exceeding in importance the crisis of 1860. The secession movement was but an attempt to divide this country between two governments, each of them designed to protect property within the limits of its jurisdiction. The movement launched at Chicago is an attempt to paralyze industry by using all the powers of government to take property from the hands of those who created it and place it in the hands of those who covet it. This is a question of morals as well as politics. No political convention can issue a valid license to commit offenses against morality, and I decline to follow Mr. Bryan in a crusade against honesty and the rights of labor."

"In a contest for the existence of civilization no man can remain neutral. Whoever does not support the forces of order, aids the forces of disorder. If I can do anything to thwart a movement, the success of which I should regard as an irreparable calamity not only to this country, but to the civilized society everywhere, I shall certainly do it."

"What do you think of Tammany's action in endorsing the ticket?"

"I simply can't understand it. They strongly opposed the platform at Chicago on the ground that it was an assault on the integrity of the nation. They decline to ratify it even now, which shows that they have not changed their opinion of it. Yet they have endorsed this candidate who stands upon it, and whose election will mean that the platform which they themselves denounce as a singular combination of lunacy and villainy shall be incorporated into the statute laws of this country."

"Will you support Major McKinley outright, or do you favor the nomination of another Democratic ticket?"

"I believe that all Democrats who are so thoroughly in favor of sound money that they place the defeat of Bryan above the interests of any organization or party, should meet in convention for the purpose of considering the form and method by which they can give the greatest efficiency to their opposition. For my part, I do not believe that the nomination of other candidates for president and vice president, however eminent and deserving they may be personally or politically, would serve any useful purpose. Nobody believes that they would be elected, and any Democrat whose hostility to Populism and Republicanism would not allow him to support either Bryan or McKinley could show his opposition to both by remaining at home on election day quite as well as by voting for a third ticket. It would be more convenient to himself individually and would not create a visible separation between himself and his party or organization."

"That end could be attained by the adoption of a platform declaring for sound money; against extravagant appropriations; in favor of economical administration in every department of government; in favor of a tariff for revenue only, and ample for the purpose; against the paternalism of the Republican party and the Populist socialism of both the Chicago and St. Louis conventions; in favor of that liberal liberty which can be maintained by so limiting the power of the government that it can never interfere with the daily concerns of law-abiding citizens. The plank of pressing importance in such a platform is, of course, the currency plank. Now, the mere election of McKinley will be the defeat of the silver movement."

"Your obvious policy, then, would be to endorse the McKinley election?"

"Precisely. The Democrats who will have achieved the success of their financial plank by the election of McKinley will yet constitute an opposition to the Republican party the day after the election, based on principles which are certainly to be ultimately adopted by the American people. What is needed, therefore, is not a new ticket, but a new platform which will declare in unmistakable language the cardinal features of the party faith, and which, while endorsing McKinley electors, will provide for a really Democratic opposition to the McKinley administration during the period of its existence."

"What is your opinion of the ultimate outlook?"

"Everything depends on the manner in which it is waged. To my mind there is but one test of prosperity which can be applied to a country, and that is the rate of wages paid to labor. There can be no prosperity where low wages are paid. There can be no distress where the rate of wages is high. It can be easily demonstrated that this whole silver movement is a conspiracy against wages, and if the campaign is fought on this line I have no doubt that every northern state—that is to say, every state in the Union in which it is practically held a free election—will be carried by the intelligence and morality of the American people against the monstrous propositions submitted to them by the convention which nominated Mr. Bryan for the presidency."

Exchanges.

Your dollars are now as good as gold, and it costs you to send a pound (£1) to the old country about $5.

If Bryan is elected and we have free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, your dollars will only be worth 53 cents, and to send a pound (£1) will cost you about $9.48.

A VICIOUS STRIKER.

He Tried to Murder a Quarry Foreman at Berea.

Berea, O., Aug. 15.—A foreman in quarry No. 7, Amos Morley, has been murdered by George Bowinski, one of the Polish quarrymen recently out on a strike. Morley is hated by the former strikers, especially those for whom work has not yet been found. A few days ago dynamite was discovered under his house.

Bowinski applied for work and upon being told there was none, struck Morley on the head with a shovel, knocking him into deep water in the quarry. Morley tried to climb out, but the Pole held his head under water with the shovel and would have drowned him had not some of the quarrymen run to his aid. Bowinski fled, but was easily found by an officer and arrested without resistance.

RIOTERS SPILL BLOOD.

The Brown Strike Causes Another Fracas at Cleveland.

FOUR PERSONS WERE WOUNDED.

At Least 20 Shots Exchanged Between Non-Unionists and Strikers—One Striker Arrested, When Seen Throwing a Revolver Away—A Spectator a Victim.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—Three men were shot and one badly hurt in a conflict which occurred between a party of the Brown company strikers and several non-union men who were going home from the works. Two of the wounded men are non-unionists, the third is a striker and the fourth a spectator. The names of the injured are J. W. Caldwell of Kenmore street, non-union, shot in the thigh and struck on the head with a billy; George Plumb of Vanness avenue, non-union, shot through the abdomen, will probably recover; Thos. Evans of Kirtland street, a striker, shot in the back, badly hurt and may die; William Lawley of Giddian avenue, a bystander, struck in the face with telegraph insulator, badly hurt.

The trouble occurred nearly two miles from the works at the corner of Wade park and East Madison avenues. A number of the non-unionists live in that vicinity. Eight or ten of them were going home from the works together. Just as they turned the corner a crowd of strikers who had been in hiding behind a saloon, attacked them. Stones were hurled, and George Plumb, one of the non-unionists, pulled a revolver and fired.

Plumb was then shot, as he claims by Henry Snell, a striker. The firing became general, at least 20 shots having been exchanged. The fight lasted, but a few minutes and as soon as it was over the strikers disappeared. The police had not anticipated any trouble in that quarter and it was some time before they had arrived on the scene and began an investigation. Ambulances took the injured men to hospitals or their homes, and the search for the men who did the shooting was begun.

Later the police arrested J. H. Whittan, a striking machinist, formerly employed by the Brown company. He was seen to throw a revolver, all the cartridges in which had been fired, through an open door into a barber shop.

A Cleveland special says: The Brown company strike has been extended to Pittsburgh. The strikers learned a few days ago that the Seafie Foundry and Machine company of Pittsburgh was doing work for the Brown company and they sent a representative there. He has sent back word that he would probably succeed in getting the pattern-makers, machinists and iron molders of the Seafie company to strike.

NEGOTIATIONS PROGRESSING.

A Reply Regarding Venezuela in House of Commons.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—The first lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, in the house of commons, replying to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader who requested information relative to the progress of the negotiations for arbitration of the Venezuelan dispute, asking whether the apparent difficulties had been removed by the proposal of the United States contained in the dispatch of June 12, said that the government was still considering the latest proposal of Secretary Olney, which is regarded as opening the way for an equitable settlement.

Mr. Balfour added that the government has every reason to expect that the pending negotiations will lead to an early settlement of the dispute.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt said he thought the house would regard Mr. Balfour's statement as eminently satisfactory.

A HEROIC YOUNG AMERICAN.

Though Wounded, He Prevented a Train Wreck in Mexico.

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 15.—Inquiry has been received here from the office of the United States consul at Juarez, Mexico, concerning James F. Howard, a young man well known here, who is reported to be lying unconscious in a hospital at Juarez, with two bullets in his body. Private telegrams received here state that Howard started from Juarez to the City of Mexico. A short distance out of Juarez, he became involved in a difficulty with several Mexicans, who attempted to assault him. In a desperate fight that followed, he shot three of them dead and escaped, though himself badly wounded. Later the same night, although almost faint from loss of blood, young Howard saved the Mexican Central train southbound from a wreck, apparently planned by the gang of Mexicans with which he had fought.

He had learned that some one had removed the rails a half mile ahead, and as the train turned a curve some distance away Howard set fire to his coat and as best he could in his weakened condition waved the flaming garment across the track. The signal proved effective, Howard was taken aboard and just before he lost consciousness was enabled to tell the trainmen the condition of the track. The train proceeded slowly, finally coming to a place where the rails had been removed for two lengths and placed across the track. Robbery was evidently intended. Howard has been unconscious since then. He has been shot in two places and dangerously wounded. The Mexican Central officials are doing all possible for him.

TERRIBLE DEATH AWAITS HIM.

A Mad Mob After a Child's Assassin Near Mobile.

MOBILE, Aug. 15.—A horrible sensation was made known here on the arrival of Rev. Gardiner C. Tucker, one of Mobile's most prominent Episcopal clergymen, from Battle's Wharf, on the eastern shore, where the family had been for the summer. His little 5-year-old child was taken from her bed at midnight and carried, still asleep, on the breast of a man, supposed to be white, who took her into the woods and horribly outraged her, afterward bringing her back and depositing his bleeding burden on the porch.

Two counties are shocked by the news and the Mobile police have been called upon to make inquiry. The best men have left here heavily armed and with dogs to scour the country, and the fiend will have short shift if caught. The Mobile crowd was denied passage on the police boat and are only waiting for a regular steamer, and the threats they make indicate a horrible fate for the assailant.

SWIFT TOM COOPER.

He Adds Two More Victories to His List at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 15.—Two more national championships—the quarter and the third mile—dangle at the belt of Tom Cooper. These made three successive championship victories for the Detroit lad. He tried hard for the mile championship, but got in a bad position and was beaten out by little Tom Butler, who rode the race of his life.

But Arthur Gardiner, of the Morgan and Wright team, is the hero of the day. He rode a magnificent race in the one mile open, beating Sanger out by half a wheel's length in 2:01 4-5, world's record time, single paced. Sanger was unfortunate in this contest and deserves a great deal of credit for his work.

Royal sport characterized the second day of the L. A. W. national meet. The weather was pleasant and another big crowd, with a generous proportion of ladies, turned out.

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, Death has again entered our ranks and it has seemed best to Almighty God, the ruler of the universe, in his infinite wisdom to remove from among us our talented and beloved friend, Harry Cochran, therefore, in view of the pleasant and intimate relations which for six years he held with this church as a fellow worker, make it eminently fitting that we should place upon record our feelings of appreciation of his faithful services and deep regret for his loss; therefore

Resolved, That we deeply realize that we have lost one of our dearest, most faithful and most gifted members, and that this sudden removal by death of our esteemed brother from the position which he held in our church creates a vacancy not easily filled, and that we fully realize and deeply deplore the loss occasioned to ourselves and the community at large.

Resolved, That we hereby extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family and friends of our beloved associate, and even in the deep sadness of their affliction, thanks be unto God that we can commend them for consolation to our kind and loving Savior, who, though sometimes inscrutable in his dispensations, yet "doeth all things well," feeling sure that to them, as to us, there is great comfort in the knowledge that the deceased was not only honorable and manly in all respects but was also a devoted, self-sacrificing, consistent Christian.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family of our brother, and that the resolutions be also published in our church paper and in each of the daily papers of the city as a testimonial of our grief and sympathy.

TRYING TO GET EVEN.

Clock and Watch Makers Get Into the Bicycle Trade.

Three or four years ago there were only a few makers of cyclometers, and they were very heavy and costly. Now cyclometers are made as small as a silver quarter, weigh almost nothing and can be purchased at a trifling cost. Many dealers add a cyclometer to the equipment of the bicycle as an inducement to the purchaser, and as a result bicycles without cyclometers are the exception.

Cycling has brought many blessings in its train, and one of the greatest of these is the neat little register which records accurately the distance traversed by the cyclist. It is practically a 10,000 mile tape-line in a compact and convenient form. It is a great satisfaction for the rider to see the miles roll up on the dial as he spins along. The present cyclometers are very simple in construction, and as a rule perform their duty without error, but too much must not be expected of what is merely a mechanical contrivance. A rider can hardly expect his cyclometer to measure the distance between two points accurately if he wobbles from one side of the road to the other. In this way a beginner's cyclometer might record a mile while he has been pursuing his sinuous course for only half that distance.

Cyclometers are made for wheels of a given diameter, and if a 26 inch cyclometer be fitted to a 28 inch wheel the figures will not be accurate enough to be valuable. For the same reason if the front tire be soft an appreciable error in the measurement will occur, because of the lessened diameter of the bicycle wheel. If the tire sinks in a quarter of an inch under the weight of the rider, the error in a mile ride would amount to 14 yards. Thus the accuracy of a cyclometer measurement varies perceptibly, according to the hardness of the tire. However, the average bicycle rider is not an engineer or surveyor, and the popularity of the cyclometer is in no way endangered because of this slight variation from the truth, a failing to which the cyclist is often driven by the sear and rattle of a huge mileage record.

So long as the variation is on the cyclist's side the cyclometer's future is safe. At any rate, the demand for the device is lively, and the makers are re-trenching their losses incurred by the encroachment of the bicycle upon the watch trade. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WANTED TO RENT A HOUSE of about six rooms with convenient state price and full particulars. Address "E. J." care News Review.

The advantage of a policeman over a burglar is that the policeman has the law on his side. Health has the same advantage over disease. The Law of Nature is for the people to be healthy. When they are sick, Nature helps to cure them. Nature's law is the guide for curing sick people. There is no way but Nature's way. What the doctors call many different diseases Nature cures in one way, by nourishing the whole body with good, pure, rich, red blood. That is Nature's way of curing scrofula, erysipelas, kidney and "liver complaint," consumption and every form of eruptive and wasting disease. When you want to help Nature with medicine the medicine must work the same way as Nature works, then it has the laws of Nature on its side to make it powerful. That is the secret of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery's wonderful cures. It assists Nature according to her own laws; it is on Nature's side and Nature helps it; it imparts new power to the nutritive and blood making organs to create a large quantity of fresh, red, healthy blood which drives every germ of disease out of the system and builds up strong healthy tissues and solid flesh. The "Discovery" completely clears away every form of blood-disease from the system; it even cures consumption. It is the only true radical cure for that disease; facts and testimony to prove it.

"I would like to tell the whole world what your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has done for me. The doctor, who is considered an expert on lung troubles, told me I had consumption. He said both my lungs were diseased and I could not live long. I felt down-hearted for I have dear little children to live for. I just went to him to get his opinion. I am glad I did for now I know what your medicine will do for me. I was better in every way and was able to take a walk on every fine day. I enjoyed my sleep, my appetite was good, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I began to feel like a new woman. I still had a cough, so I got a third bottle and by the time it was half gone I was completely cured."

A NEW KIND OF PARITY.

A Fable That Shows Where Silver Will Land Uncle Sam.

Watson & Gibson of New York are sending out the following fable in their latest market letter. It's a hard nut for free silverites to crack. The letter says: "One of the most distinguished bankers in this city sends us with the stamp of his approval a very amusing and instructive fable. It is a fable entitled the 'Wise Men of Kansas,' and the scene is laid in the future. We can not do better than to quote from it and thus give it additional circulation as a specimen of the clever literature which will be used by the Republicans of this campaign."

"Then the governor assembled the wise men in special session and thus addressed them: 'Most noble, brave and mighty yeomen, our people groan. The burden is heavy upon them. Early and late they toil and eat the bread of disappointment and bitterness. Make ye laws for their deliverance.'

"We are the greatest state in the union. We are big enough and rich enough to have a policy of our own regardless of what other states may do or may not do. Let us be patriotic. A Kansas policy for Kansas is the need of the hour. Wheat is hard to raise and the yield is light and uncertain; but we are great on corn. The notion that the price must be the law of supply and demand is a superstition by means of which the rich plunder and oppress honest toil. Make ye therefore a law in accordance with which sovereign and august statute corn shall be put upon a par with wheat. They shall be interchangeable bushel for bushel, and the price of corn shall be the same as the price of wheat. Do this and the people of Kansas shall rise up and call you blessed, and all the world except the money lenders shall hail you as the emancipators of mankind."

"The wise men passed the law as the governor had advised, and all the people of the state rejoiced, for their cries were full of corn. They could hardly contain themselves till the governor had signed the bill which raised the price of Kansas corn from 15 cents to 45 cents a bushel. All the people now felt rich. They bought many luxuries and most of them went into debt. They wondered that they had never before found out that wealth was simply a matter of legislation, and they felt a great pity and contempt for the ignorant and superstitious people of the other states. Then the farmers from the other states began hauling their corn to Kansas. Long lines of wagons came winding along every road. Boats floated it down the rivers and railroads rushed it from every section of the country. It seemed as if the country was all corn and it was all headed for Kansas. The people of Kansas took their medicine, that is, they took the corn and gave up their wheat."

"The farmers of the other states thought the Kansas people queer, but they kept bringing them their corn. Corn came in and wheat went out. And besides all the Kansas people had gone to raising corn because it was more easily produced than wheat and was to bring just as much in the market as wheat, for the wise men had decreed that it should. It was not long until Kansas had all of its own and nearly all of its neighbors' corn."

"When the other states saw this vast accumulation and knew that it must sooner or later come on the market, the price of corn began to decline till it could be purchased everywhere, except in Kansas, for 10 cents a bushel. In Kansas the price was still 45 cents, which was the price of wheat, but there were no buyers. Neither would anyone exchange wheat for their corn. When the autumn came the Kansas people did not have any wheat for seed. Then they sent to the neighboring states and implored the farmers to exchange wheat at a parity with corn. But the farmers said: 'We will exchange one for four and one-half bushels of corn.' 'Our law,' replied the Kansas people, 'puts corn and wheat on a parity. They are equal, for our wise men said they should be.' And the farmers replied: 'Your wise men are asses; let them eat your corn.' So the Kansas went back home and all their people were in despair. 'The more corn they had the less it was worth, and they had nothing but corn. Day by day the times grew harder. 'Then the governor again assembled the wise men and said to them: 'Most consummate, picturesque and glittering gold-darned fools. There is but one bigger fool than yourselves. It is he who now addresses you.' 'We thought we could bluff the everlasting law of supply and demand with our statute. We thought we could legislate value into a thing and make our people rich by a law. We thought we were patriotic. We were idiotic. Let us honestly acknowledge our sinfulness, repeal our fool law, get back into line with the other states, and imagine no more that we are wiser than the world.'"

Resolutions of Respect.

WHEREAS, Death has again entered our ranks and it has seemed best to Almighty God, the ruler of the universe, in his infinite wisdom to remove from among us our talented and beloved friend, Harry Cochran, therefore, in view of the pleasant and intimate relations which for six years he held with this church as a fellow worker, make it eminently fitting that we should place upon record our feelings of appreciation of his faithful services and deep regret for his loss; therefore

Resolved, That we deeply realize that we have lost one of our dearest, most faithful and most gifted members, and that this sudden removal by death of our esteemed brother from the position which he held in our church creates a vacancy not easily filled, and that we fully realize and deeply deplore the loss occasioned to ourselves and the community at large.

Resolved, That we hereby extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved family and friends of our beloved associate, and even in the deep sadness of their affliction, thanks be unto God that we can commend them for consolation to our kind and loving Savior, who, though sometimes inscrutable in his dispensations, yet doeth all things well, feeling sure that to them, as to us, there is great comfort in the knowledge that the deceased was not only honorable and manly in all respects but was also a devoted, self-sacrificing, consistent Christian.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family of our brother, and that the resolutions be also published in our church paper and in each of the daily papers of the city as a testimonial of our grief and sympathy.

TRYING TO GET EVEN.

Clock and Watch Makers Get Into the Bicycle Trade.

Three or four years ago there were only a few makes of cyclometers, and they were very heavy and costly. Now cyclometers are made as small as a silver quarter, weigh almost nothing and can be purchased at a trifling cost. Many dealers add a cyclometer to the equipment of the bicycle as an inducement to the purchaser, and as a result bicycles without cyclometers are the exception.

Cycling has brought many blessings in its train, and one of the greatest of these is the neat little register which records accurately the distance traversed by the cyclist. It is practically a 10,000 mile tape-line in a compact and convenient form. It is a great satisfaction for the rider to see the miles roll up on the dial as he spins along. The present cyclometers are very simple in construction, and as a rule perform their duty without error, but too much must not be expected of what is merely a mechanical contrivance. A rider can hardly expect his cyclometer to measure the distance between two points accurately if he wobbles from one side of the road to the other. In this way a beginner's cyclometer might record a mile while he has been pursuing his sinuous course for only half that distance.

Cyclometers are made for wheels of a given diameter, and if a 26 inch cyclometer be fitted to a 28 inch wheel the figures will not be accurate enough to be valuable. For the same reason if the front tire be soft an appreciable error in the measurement will occur, because of the lessened diameter of the bicycle wheel. If the tire sinks in a quarter of an inch under the weight of the rider, the error in a mile ride would amount to 14 yards. Thus the accuracy of a cyclometer measurement varies perceptibly, according to the hardness of the tire. However, the average bicycle rider is not an engineer or surveyor, and the popularity of the cyclometer is in no way endangered because of this slight variation from the truth, a failing to which the cyclist is often driven by the scorching heat for a huge mileage record.

So long as the variation is on the cyclist's side the cyclometer's future is safe. At any rate, the demand for the device is lively, and the makers are retrenching their losses incurred by the encroachment of the bicycle upon the watch trade. —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WANTED—TO RENT A HOUSE OF about six rooms with conveniences. State price and full particulars. Address "B. J." care News Review.

The advantage of a policeman over a burglar is that the officer has the law on his side. Health has the same advantage over disease. The Law of Nature is for people to be healthy. When they are sick, Nature helps to cure them. Nature's law is the guide for curing sick people. There is no way but Nature's way. What the doctors call many different diseases Nature cures in one way, by nourishing the whole body with good, pure, rich, red blood. That is Nature's way of curing scrofula, erysipelas, kidney and "liver complaint," consumption and every form of eruptive and wasting disease. When you want to help Nature with medicine the medicine must work the same way as Nature works, then it has the laws of Nature on its side to make it powerful. That is the secret of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery's wonderful cures. It assists Nature according to her own laws; it is on Nature's side and Nature helps it; it imparts new power to the nutritive and blood making organs, to create a large quantity of fresh, red, healthy blood which drives every germ of disease out of the system and builds up strong healthy tissues and solid flesh. The "Discovery" completely clears away every germ of blood disease from the system; it even cures consumption. It is the only true radical cure for that disease; facts and testimony to prove it.

"I would like to tell the whole world what your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has done for me. The doctor, who is considered an expert on lung troubles, told me I had consumption. He said my lungs were diseased and I could not live long. I felt down-hearted for I have dear little children to live for. I just went to him to get my opinion. I am glad to do for now I know what to do. When I started on the second bottle I was better in every way and was able to take a walk on every fine day. I enjoyed my sleep, my appetite was good, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I began to feel like a new woman. I still had a cough, so I got a third bottle and by the time it was half gone I was completely cured."

A NEW KIND OF PARITY.

A Fable That Shows Where Silver Will Land Under Sam.

Watson & Gibson of New York are sending out the following fable in their latest market letter. It's a hard nut for free silverites to crack. The letter says: "One of the most distinguished bankers in this city sends us with the stamp of his approval a very amusing and instructive leaflet. It is a fable entitled the 'Wise Men of Kansas,' and the scene is laid in the future. We can not do better than to quote from it and thus give it additional circulation as a specimen of the clever literature which will be used by the Republicans of this campaign."

"Then the governor assembled the wise men in special session and thus addressed them: 'Most noble, brave and mighty yeomen, our people groan. The burden is heavy upon them. Early and late they toil and eat the bread of disappointment and bitterness. Make ye laws for their deliverance.'

"We are the greatest state in the union. We are big enough and rich enough to have a policy of our own regardless of what other states may do or may not do. Let us be patriotic. A Kansas policy for Kansas is the need of the hour. Wheat is hard to raise and the yield is light and uncertain; but we are great on corn. The notion that the price must be the law of supply and demand is a superstition by means of which the rich plunder and oppress honest toil. Make ye therefore a law in accordance with which sovereign and august statute corn shall be put upon a par with wheat. They shall be interchangeable bushel for bushel, and the price of corn shall be the same as the price of wheat. Do this and the people of Kansas shall rise up and call you blessed, and all the world except the money lenders shall hail you as the emancipators of mankind."

"The wise men passed the law as the governor had advised, and all the people of the state rejoiced, for their cribs were full of corn. They could hardly contain themselves till the governor had signed the bill which raised the price of Kansas corn from 15 cents to 45 cents a bushel. All the people now felt rich. They bought many luxuries and most of them went into debt. They wondered that they had never before found out that wealth was simply a matter of legislation, and they felt a great pity and contempt for the ignorant and superstitious people of the other states. Then the farmers from the other states began hauling their corn to Kansas. Long lines of wagons came winding along every road. Boats floated it down the rivers and railroads rushed it from every section of the country. It seemed as if the country was all corn and it was all headed for Kansas. The people of Kansas took their medicine, that is, they took the corn and gave up their wheat."

"The farmers of the other states thought the Kansas people queer, but they kept bringing them their corn. Corn came in and wheat went out. And besides all the Kansas people had gone to raising corn because it was more easily produced than wheat and was to bring just as much in the market as wheat, for the wise men had decreed that it should. It was not long until Kansas had all of its own and nearly all its neighbors' corn."

"When the other states saw this vast accumulation and knew that it must sooner or later come on the market, the price of corn began to decline till it could be purchased everywhere, except in Kansas, for 10 cents a bushel. In Kansas the price was still 45 cents, which was the price of wheat, but there were no buyers. Neither would anyone exchange wheat for their corn. When the autumn came the Kansas people did not have any wheat for seed. Then they sent to the neighboring states and implored the farmers to exchange wheat at a parity with corn. But the farmers said: 'We will exchange one for four and one-half bushels of corn.' 'Our law,' replied the Kansas people, 'puts corn and wheat on a parity. They are equal, for our wise men said they should be.' And the farmers replied: 'Your wise men are asses; let them eat your corn.' So the Kansans went back home and all their people were in despair."

"The more corn they had the less it was worth, and they had nothing but corn. Day by day the times grew harder. 'Then the governor again assembled the wise men and said to them, 'Most consummate, picturesque and glittering gold-darned fools. There is but one bigger fool than yourselves. It is he who now addresses you.' 'We thought we could bluff the everlasting law of supply and demand with our statute. We thought we could legislate value into a thing and make our people rich by a law. We thought we were patriotic. We were idiotic. Let us honestly acknowledge our assineness, repeal our fool law, get back into line with the other states, and imagine no more that we are wiser than the world.'"
